

The base ball meeting Monday evening was not as well attended as it should have been, and owing to that fact a committee was appointed to ascertain the sentiment of the people in regards to having a first class team in the field next summer. This committee will also solicit funds. Owing to the removal of a number of our good players, it will be necessary to employ more outside talent than has been necessary in former years, and this takes money. It is up to the fans. Binford has always been represented by a fast team, one which has had a reputation over the whole state, but we have been fortunate in having good local material so the cost has been very small. This condition seems to be over, and it is necessary in order to maintain a team of the same calibre, to dig and dig deep—and the time to do it is now—not when the fever sets in and it is too late to secure suitable material. The committee will call on you in a few days and it behooves you to go the limit if you want a fair representation of the national pastime next summer. Another committee was appointed to arrange for a basket social and dance to be held some time next month, probably the 23rd.
