

The members of the Binreacalait have decided to give a home talent play in the near future. The play selected is called "Among the breakers," and some hard study is being put on it by those taking part.