

A meeting of the stockholders of the Binford Co-operative company was held yesterday, but the attendance was not large enough, so another meeting is called for next Wednesday, when it is expected that the organization will be perfected.