New Dress.

The Times appears this week in a new dress. It has been a long time since the paper was dressed in new type--in fact it has had only one and that was purchased when the paper was established nearly ten years ago. There's more of it to go as soon as conditions warrant the buying of new material. When the Times was established in Binford a lot of the type from the hell box of the Hope Pioneer was placed in the shop and is still doing service on the paper. It's about shot to ---- and will soon have to go. We might add, though, the Pioneer's hell box has been a mighty good one as long as it lasted.
