

Binford will have a farmers' institute on Wednesday and Thursday, February 28 and 29. There will be meetings Wednesday afternoon and evening, and Thursday forenoon and up to train time in the afternoon. There are assurances of three first-class speakers and possibly more. Those who are already on the list are Prof. T. A. Hoverstad, Prof. Thos. Shaw, and Prof. W. C. Palmer. These men have reputations of being foremost and best read along the lines of improved farm methods, and their talks will, without a question, be of great benefit to all who attend the meetings. This is the first attempt that Binford has made toward securing a farmers' institute and since we are going to have two days of it, we are not going to spare any efforts toward making it a profitable and enjoyable one. Committees of the Commercial club have the arrangements in hand, and they will see to it that those who are here for the two days will be made comfortable. So lay your plans to be in Binford on Wednesday and Thursday, February 28 and 29.
