

The home talent play, "Among the Breakers," given last Saturday evening was well received and was a success far beyond expectations. The opera house was filled to more than its seating capacity and many of the chairs upstairs belonging to the Odd Fellows were put in service and even then many were obliged to stand. Every character had learned his or her part and the acting showed a lot of hard and careful training. The proceeds amounted to $87.25. The show will be put on in McHenry Saturday, and they have invitations to go to some of the other neighboring towns.
