

Owing to the sudden illness of Miss Betts' father and his subsequent death, the play, "Among the Breakers," of which she was one of the leading characters which was to have been given at McHenry last Saturday evening, was necessarily postponed to allow her to go to her home at Litchfield, Minn. It is understood that the play will be given some time in May.

---

---