

The sale and supper held last evening in the opera house by the ladies' aid society of the Norwegian Lutheran church, was a grand success from every standpoint. The supper was a genuine feature. It was served in the dairy lunch fashion, and all the good things imaginable was laid out before you. If anyone went hungry it surely was no fault of the ladies'. The proceeds of the supper amounted to $48. After supper was all over the sale of the articles began and the way that Auctioneer Lewis got the money for them proves conclusively that he is no novice in this line. The proceeds of the sale amounted to $107.10. The ladies are highly pleased over the success of their undertaking.
