

School Notes.

Ruth and Olga Dahlin are in school again, after an absence enforced by measles in the Dahlin family.

Hildur Gunderson, Joseph Myron, and Olaf Standal are still absent from the intermediate room on account of the measles.

Josephine Thingelstad was absent from Room III on Tuesday.

In a recent spelling contest the sixth grade beat the seventh and eighth grades. Hildur Gunderson, a member of the sixth grade, has the honor of standing on the floor the longest.

Esther Halling is absent from the eighth grade on account of an attack of the grip.

County examinations are being held in the different grades this week.

Lillie Amundson, of near Aneta, returned to school last Thursday, having just recovered from a siege of the measles.

Dr. Truscott called at the building Friday afternoon.

The fourth grade is memorizing "Old Ironsides" and the fifth grade "The Star Spangled Banner."

Most of the measles victims have now returned to school, and we are a happy family again.

The eighth grade pupils are busy this week with their final examinations.

The English class is now studying Shakespeare's "As You Like It."

Helen Alm, Irene and Nellie Pritz, Rueben Arneson, Alvin Shaw, Ida Goplin, Carl Norstrum, Myrtle Hanstad, Robert Carrol and Alton Dahlin returned to school this week.

Miss Spalding was a guest in the primary room Tuesday forenoon.

The entertainment Monday evening by the McCalley Entertainers proved to be very successful. This was for the benefit of the school library. Miss Spalding, a sweet, womanly soprano, was deeply appreciated by the audience. Mr. McCalley was also heartily applauded after each reading. The school children enjoyed hearing them again on Tuesday morning at the school building, where they very kindly gave a few numbers for the children.
