Card of Thanks

To the friends who came to us in our hour of sorrow, and contributed all that human kindness could suggest, to help and comfort, we return most heartfelt thanks, and although such devoted friendship cannot remove the sad memories that linger around our vacant chair, it brings into view the brightest side of humanity, and throws the pure light of an unselfish friendship into a darkened home. May the day be far distant when those friends who gathered around us will need similar attention, but when the time comes may they receive the same full measure of generous aid and tender sympathy they brot to our home when death was an inmate there.

Mrs. Louis Hanstad and children.

A good judge of live stock is the kind of a man you want to engage to cry your auction sale this fall. F. G. Lewis is that fellow.

Buchheit-Bakken Co. have an interesting ad on clothing this week that it will pay you to read.
