

School Notes.

Edna Sorvik and Oliver Swenson are the new pupils enrolled in Room II. "The more the merrier."

There has been only one absence in Room III this week. Olga Dahlin was unavoidably absent on Tuesday.

Robert Truscott presented the Primary room with a beautiful bouquet of carnations on Tuesday.

It seems that formaldehyde does not destroy the "toothache germ." A number of pupils are afflicted with the malady.

With our stone water jars in each room and our individual drinking cups we feel real up to date, thanks to the board.

Thinka and Lilly Olsgard have been on the absent list this week.

Miss Helen Alm was a visitor on Wednesday.

No one in Room II has been absent or tardy since a week ago Monday. It looks as though a good many certificates of perfect attendance were forth-coming.

The fifth grade have been dramatizing "Barbara Frietchie." Stonewall Jackson and his troopers are quite soldier-like with paper caps and yard sticks for guns. As for Barbara Friechie—poor old lady, she is not afraid of anyone.

The third grade is studying Longfellow's life.

The Decoration committee have furnished a number of pretty pictures for the adornment of Room III.

In Geography, the fourth grade is making a study of soils.

The seventh grade grammar class is memorizing selections from "The Heritage," by Lowell.

Oh! those examinations! Ques,: In what zones is South America? Puzzled boy's answer: South America is in the hot tempered zone.

The following "Help U" committees have been appointed for Room III: Music—Agnes Knapp, Josephine Thingelstad, Lillie Amundson; decoration—Ruth Dahlin, Lillian Swenson, Hazel Maurer; ventilation—Harold Swenson, Clarence Brill; care of schoolroom—Olaf Knapp, Clarence Brill; librarian—Olga Dahlin; correcting of papers—Olga Dahlin, Anna Hegland; monitors—Agnes Knapp, Hazel Maurer.
