

Twenty new pews have been installed in the United Lutheran church this week. They are built of oak and they give the interior of the church a much better appearance than the old chairs.