

The annual village election will be held next Tuesday. So far, no great deal of interest has been aroused. It is not likely that there will be any opposition to the present trustees. Albert Alfson's refusal to serve as assessor has caused some talk as to who is to fill that place. F. G. Lewis and Chas. Patterson have been mentioned, and it is thought that either one of them will serve if elected. For marshal, besides Ludvig Amundson, the present one, Martin Rood has been mentioned. For clerk, treasurer and justice of the peace, there seems to be no opposition.
