

Fred Bose met with a very painful injury to the forefinger of his left hand yesterday. He was employed at the Crane-Johnson lumber yard sawing wood with a circular saw and in some manner he got his finger in the way of the saw, cutting an ugly gash extending from the point of the finger to the knuckle. Dr. Truscott dressed the injured member. Fred will be handicapped considerably for some time.