

F. D. Cannon went to Cooperstown Tuesday, to take out his first papers for citizenship. Fred thinks that the law is a regular gee whiz, as it will be two years yet before he will have a chance to cast a ballot. Incidentally, he stumbled into a job while there. The basement in the court house is being fixed up, and Fred got the job of plastering, and that helps some. On the strength of that he inserted an ad in the Times, and from now on until it freezes up next fall, he will be kept on the jump.
