

to bring them in to town. He had the halter on one and was trying to lead him, when all of a sudden the mule wheeled and kicked, breaking the bone in two. He also received some injuries about the face. Mr. Dahlin's boy was along with a horse and buggy and brought him to town. Dr. Truscott was called and placed the injured member in a cast. Mr. Dahlin suffered excruciating pain on the way to town, caused by the jar of riding. He will be confined to his home for some time, and this, at a time when he has a lot of farm work to attend to, will be all the more unfortunate.
