

A young son of Ole Danielson went to Fargo last Friday, where he received surgical treatment. About two months ago he was kicked in the face by a horse, fracturing a jaw bone. He was taken to Fargo then and remained for a considerable time, but it was impossible to complete the treatment at that time, hence the necessity of making another trip at this time. Some dead bones were extracted. Mr. Danielson went down Tuesday to bring him home.