

will address the meeting.

The Hannaford hotel and meat market burned to the ground this morning. The fire is supposed to have started from a stove in the meat market. It was feared for some time that the entire block would be consumed in the flames.

Bederson returned last