

ville.

Wm. Hess loaded his threshing outfit onto the cars yesterday to be shipped to Verndale, Minnesota. Mr. Hess has bought a farm there, and is leaving this week, overland, with all his machinery, live stock, household goods, etc. The Times is sorry to see the Hess' leave this community. "Bill" has been one of our most substantial farmers and has made Binford his trading point. He is a jolly, good fellow and his trips to town have been a source of much pleasure to many of us. May your shadow never grow less, "Bill."

L. C. Christiansen, the big smoke