

Wylie Keiffer has received his new alto saxophone, and to say the instrument is a dandy is putting it mildly. Music is a sort of a second nature with Wylie, and it seems that he wont be satisfied until he has mastered everything that music can be gotten out of. Already he is quite proficient on the instrument and it is a great filler in the reed section of the band.

The farmers institute is meeting