

During the heavy storm Friday evening a bolt of lightning struck the Acme elevator at Rogers, but fortunately it did not set it on fire. Otto Lund, agent, was shedding his automobile only about 200 feet away at the time and was standing at the side of the machine. The nearness of the bolt gave him such a shock that he fell flat to the ground and it was several minutes before he recovered full use of his muscles.