

Landlord Maurer had a grave suspicion that he had lost one of his valuable horses when he entered the barn Monday morning, and found one stall empty. Mr. Maurer kept the phone wires hot in an effort to locate him and Tuesday afternoon he received word from the Perkins ranch near McHenry that the horse was there. This was the former home of the horse.

Last Sunday a large mass of peo