

James McCulloch was up from his Jessie farm last Saturday. Something had lodged in his eye causing him considerable pain and trouble, and it was for the purpose of seeing Dr. Truscott that he came here.