

FIGHT ON FOR COUNTY SEAT

McVille Enters Battle For Re- moval of Nelson County Capital.

Fight for the removal of the county seat of Nelson county from Lakota to McVille has been launched by McVille, and that city proposes to make an interesting campaign for the honor in the event that enough momentum can be given on the movement. The fact that the question of the construction of a new court house for the county is being discussed has been made the basis for the removal talk at this time.

The fact that McVille is located more nearly to the center of the county than is Lakota is one of the principal arguments that will be raised in favor of that place. The citizens of McVille also propose to raise a fund of about $32,000; or one-third the cost of a new court house, to be given the county for that work in the event that the city is given the county seat location.

Lakota has been the county seat ever since the county was organized, and the fight just opened will prove decidedly interesting.
