

street humming a sweet melody.

Emil Mickelson, who for the past three years has been employed in this vicinity, left last Saturday for Uno, Sask., to live on the claim that he filed on early in the spring. The Times will keep him posted on events in this country.