

Knut Olson was in town Tuesday and informed the Times scribe that he is building a good sized house for himself. Knut says that all the carpenters were too busy to take the job, and while he is handicapped to a certain extent, he is not experiencing a great deal of difficulty.

A great many friends...