

Anton Pederson had a narrow escape from what might have proven a serious accident last week. He fell through the top of a separator onto the beaters, and aside from a few scratches on his legs, he is none the worse as a result of the accident.

Attorney J. E. Fentle