

Torger Rogne returned last Saturday from Manning, where he had been to look after the breaking and seeding of his land. Conditions out there are about the same as they are here, he says.