DIDN'T FLY UP HIGH ENOUGH

ı

ŗ

•

.

e

8

-

5

t

n 0

Aeroplane Is Not Good Vehicle in Which to Escape Creditors.

The luck of "Lucky" Bob St. Henry, the famous Curtiss North Dakota areo artist was suddenly changed last Friday when found himself forced to go into voluntary bankruptcy, as a result of living beyond his means. The papers were filed Friday in the federal court in Fargo, where the court adjudged him a bankrupt and his case was turned over to the referee in bankruptcy Emerson H. Smith. Henry's petition for bankruptcy was voluntary, his liabilities ex-

. t, ceeding his resources by $3,917. e the latter being found entirely . lacking. Among the principal creditors S of "Lucky" Bob, who include ė, people from coast to coast, are 0, e where he owes a bill of $400, the 11 Nicollet hotel, Minneapolis, he owes $100, the Hollis Electric (company of Minneapolis, and the d Electric Manufacturing company is of St. Paul are other creditors. Bob St. Henry appeared at the county fair in Cooperstown in the Palace hotel of Fresno, Cal,

June, but failed to live up to his econtract. The contract called 8 for two flights each day of the 00 fair, but he made one flight and then pulled out, causing a great 90 deal of disappointment to many 63 who had been attracted for the 83 sole purpose of seeing the exhi-101 bition. He has made a number ghts throughout the state, 60 the last having been at Minot where he attracted much attention. St. Henry's home is in Carrington, North Dakota.