Mrs. Frank Starr went to Fargo Monday to consult an eye specialist.

Frank Bailey left Saturday morning for Montana where he will spend a couple of months.

Wonder why Melgard has such a poor opinion of editors? For information, inquire of "Irish" Bedford, N. D.

Hallowe'en passed without anything extraordinary being pulled off. A few wagons, plows, bays, etc. were dragged into the street, but that was the extent of the festivities.

B. N. Howden, O. B. Hoff, Homer L. Hill and J. E. Fladland attended the regular meeting of the Masonic lodge in Cooperstown Wednesday evening. Mr. Howden took the party in his car.

Robert Starr took his daughter Ella to Fargo Monday to consult a physician concerning the latter's health. Word was received by the home folks that she underwent an operation Wednesday morning.

A swindler tried to get $300 from the father of Otto Topp of Grace City last week. Topp's father received a telegram from St. Paul saying the former was in St. Paul and needed $300. Instead of sending it the old man went to St. Paul where he learned the telegram was a fake.—Sutton Reporter.
