

While cutting a board with a circular saw, on Monday, Carpenter Tweed got his fore finger on the left hand too close to the saw, and consequently is minus part of the finger. He is considerably handicapped by the loss of the member at the present time, but as soon as it heals he will get accustomed to the use of the others and suffer no bad effects.

Sunday August 29 confirm