It seems that it takes more than one crop shortage to dis- (courage our farmers, judging by v d the number of new barns that v . are going up. Alek Osmundson i s is building a large barn on his d farm, Engebret Iverson is build- a ing a barn, Hokin Smogaard is c laying a foundation for a large a new barn on his place. John P. Ir Vangen is making improvements on his buildings and Ole Daniel- 1 8 son is about ready to have a barn t 1 erected on his farm. All this, in 1 a bad year, speaks well for the ١ ÿ prosperity of our farmers. Valley City Datrict. There
