

Mrs. W. E. West returned home Monday with her son, Harwell, who has been confined in St. John's hospital at Fargo, following an operation for appendicitis. The operation was a serious one and as is usual in his case the patient is kept in the hospital for six or seven weeks, while he was there three.

We have just recently completed