

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Maurer were called to Terry, Montana, on Sunday, on account of the death of their granddaughter. The little one had fallen on a nail with force enough to pierce her intestines and died on the operating table.