

lengthy seven men.

A parcel shower was given Mrs. Carl Grove, a bride of this month, at the home of Mrs. Julius Thorn Monday evening. Nearly thirty ladies were gathered at the house when the honor guest arrived, and upon her entrance she was greeted by the words "Surprise! Surprise!" She was then shown into the dining room where the table was loaded with parcels containing gifts, both useful and beautiful, that go to make up a housekeeper's supply. A dainty lunch consisting of ice-cream, coffee and cake was served by Mrs. Thorn, after which the guests departed for their homes.
