

CAPT. RACKET WILL BE SHOWN

Home Talent Play will Be Put On
For Baseball Team Benefit,
Friday, Feb. 25.

"Capt. Racket," a comedy in three acts, by Chas. Townsend, will be put on by Binford talent, Friday evening, Feb. 25.

The cast of characters has been studiously at work memorizing their parts and have made sufficient progress so that they are enabled to set a definite date for its production.

The proceeds from this play, and another, which will follow later, will go towards wiping out the baseball indebtedness. There is a deficiency of a little more than $300, and rather than take up a subscription to raise this amount, the idea of these plays was conceived, which is a much better plan. In this way the burden of financing the ball team does not fall on a few, as has been the case in former years. The home talent plays accomplishes the same purpose and gives all a chance to do their part and in addition gives them more for their money.

The cast of characters and synopsis are given below:

Capt. Robert Racket—Of the National Guard. A lawyer when he has nothing else to do, and a liar all the time.—Francis Ringlee.

Obadiah Dawson—His uncle, from Japan "where they make tea."—I. H. Alm.

Timothy Tolman—His friend, who married for money, and is sorry for it.—Oscar Greenland.

Mr. Dalroy—His father-in-law, a jolly cove.—F. C. Boeckman

Hobson—A waiter from the "Cafe Gloriana," who adds to the confusion.—C. E. Peterson.

Clarice—The Captian's pretty wife out for a lark, and up to "anything awful."—Miss Cora Paul.

Mrs. Tolman—A lady with a temper, who finds her Timothy a vexation of spirit.—Miss Marie Norman.

Katy—A mischeivous maid.—Mrs. H. B. Hanson.

Tootsey—

Act. I. Place—Timothy's country home on the Hudson near New York. Time: A breezy morning in September. The Captian's fancy takes flight, and the trouble begins.

Act. II. Place—The same. Time: The next morning. How one yarn requires another. "The greatest liar unhung." Now the trouble increases, and the Captain prepares for war.

Act. III. Place—The same. Time: Evening of the same day. More "misery." A general muddle. "Dance, or you'll die." Cornered at last. The Captain own up. All serene.

Auto Tags Are Out.

The first shipment of the long delayed and much awaited auto and motorcycle license tags for this year have been received and are being sent out to auto owners in all parts of the state from the office of the secretary of state.

The tags were expected early in December, but through some delay the manufacturers were unable to ship them. About 300 tags have been received to date and daily shipments are expected from now on.

It is expected there will be well over 30,000 licensed automobiles in the state before the end of the year.
