

The Times has added to its equipment a 25½ inch paper cutter, and henceforth we will be relieved of the unsatisfactory means of a jack knife to cut our paper stock. Besides, we have nearly worn out a stove pipe sharpening the knife, like mother used to do. We have other improvements in view which will facilitate the work in the back room and these will be made as soon as finances will warrant it—so, if you are in arrears on your subscription call in and pay up, thereby helping us to give you a better paper.
