

Miss Anna Burseth.

The directors of the Farmers' Co-operative Elevator company held a meeting Monday, and decided to make a number of improvements to the building this summer. A new foundation will be put in, new driveways, an automatic scale, new legs and belting, and other changes which will make the house up-to-date in every way. These improvements will require an expenditure of about $3500. A carload of prison twine has been ordered, to be sold to the stockholders of the company.
