

ODD FELLOWS TO ENTERTAIN

Big Dance and Supper Will Be Held
Next Friday Evening,
Jan. 28th.

The big social event of the season will be pulled off Friday evening of next week, when the Binford Odd Fellows hold their annual "doings."

The dances in previous years under their auspices have proved very enjoyable affairs, and many people have been anticipating a repetition of the good times this year. Even some of the old folks who think dancing is too strenuous, and whose joints are a little creaky, make it a point to attend this event—in fact they admit that the Odd Fellows are the only ones who can bring them out.

The committee in charge will conduct the dance along the same lines as the one held last year. That is—there will be plenty of the old time dances so that the older people can participate—and the younger generation will have their new-fangled stunts, so that anyone having a desire to dance may do so. There will be no necessity of being a "wall-flower" at this "blow-out."

And last, but, by no means least, is the supper to be served in the lodge rooms by the Odd Fellows' wives. That, in itself, is worth the "price of admission." The well-known culinary ability of these ladies is sufficient proof that it will be some spread.

The proceeds of this event will go into the building fund of the lodge, and eventually will be utilized towards securing a home of their own.

Mark the calendar so you will remember the date—Friday, Jan. 28th.
