

home.

The play "The Price She Paid," which showed to a full house last Wednesday evening, by Old Tom Lennon and his company, was very good and was well received here. The characters played their parts well throughout the show.