

Owing to the threatening weather last evening the attendance at the concert wasn't as large as it should have been. The program rendered was fine and the song numbers very entertaining. McHenry can feel justly proud of their band which is a credit to any town. Space forbids individual mention, but from the applause given each number the audience was well pleased with the entertainment. Prof. Bagley is to be highly commended for his work in bringing the McHenry band up to its present standard.
