

In the writeup of the Robert Burns celebration the Sharon Reporter pays the Binford orchestra the following compliment: "Everyone agreed that they had a splendid time, the speeches and songs were good and the dance music by this small but excellent orchestra was firstclass and satisfactory to all. It cannot be said of the Binford orchestra that they were "stingy" with their music for they played continually from the beginning to the end—eight hours in all.

From different parts of the coun-