

W. D. Ehlers has solved the problem which has caused many a farmer sleepless nights, and newspapers columns of print, at least in his own family. "Bill" knows that life on the farm must be something more than drudgery the year round, and in order to have the boys remain at home he has purchased them a Ford touring car.