

Edwin, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hagberg, had a serious fall yesterday. He was playing on the rafters in the machine shed at his house and fell down upon a drill standing below. He struck his head a blow, rendering him unconscious for several hours, and bruised his back and hip. Fortunately no bones were broken, but it may take several days before he'll get over the effect the fall. At the present writing he is getting along nicely.

The Rinford ball team was victor-
