

Sam S. Haislet, an old boss of the Times scribe while employed in Red Lake Falls, Minnesota, visited with us last Friday and Saturday. Mr. Haislet was formerly in the newspaper business at Fordville, Walsh county, but sold his business there recently to accept a position as traveling salesman for the Western Newspaper Union at Fargo.