

J. J. Herlick departed last Friday, for Stanfield, Oregon, where he has been offered a proposition to become a partner with his brother-in-law in the hardware business. He was undecided when he left here as to whether or not he would accept the deal. Jack has been in the employ of Greenland, Pritz & Co. for a number of years and the faithful manner in which he has performed his duties, has made him practically indispensable to that firm. As proof of this, the company has offered him a substantial increase in salary to remain with them. He has a legion of warm friends here who will be more than pleased to welcome him back, and who will always be glad to hear of his success out west in case he decides to engage in business for himself.