

LOST BROTHER IS LOCATED

News Item in Sentinel-Courier Last Week Will Unite Two Lost
Brothers.

Last week's Sentinel-Courier contained a news item relative to the whereabouts of B. A. Hermandson, of Binford, which was inserted by his brother who was seeking information regarding him. The item follows:

"If any of our readers know the whereabouts of Botholf Hermandson, or know whether he is dead or alive, they will confer a great favor by communicating this information to his brother, Thom Anderson at Quiring, Minn. Mr. Anderson in a letter to Postmaster Nelson, seeks information regarding his brother, and the Sentinel-Courier is glad to do what it can to aid in spreading his appeal among our readers. He states that his brother is a man of about 50 years of age, and that he has no word concerning him in 23 years."

Mr. Anderson was a former resident of Griggs county, having farmed about 10 miles east of town in the early days. He went from here to Fargo, where he was employed in a hotel for some time, and later moved to Moorhead. Mr. Hermandson wrote to his brother frequently at Fargo, but he remembers that his last letter was returned. Since that time he has not heard from him, so he went to Moorhead to search for him and learned that he had left, presumably to take a claim in Northern Minnesota.

Mr. Hermandson wrote to his brother at Quiring, immediately after being shown the item in the Sentinel-Courier.

And then some people claim that it doesn't pay to advertise.
