

JESSIE NEWS.

J. D. Reid and family, of Binford, were entertained at the J. W. Ressler home Sunday.

N. O. Haugen, of McHenry, was a Jessie visitor Wednesday looking after bank interests.

Fred Claus left Tuesday for a vacation trip in the southern part of the state. Fred is a gentleman of leisure for the present.

Services were held in the schoolhouse Sunday afternoon. Rev. Stinson preached a very helpful sermon. There was a good attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hauge and daughters, Mabel and Edna, were entertained Sunday at the Overby home near the Sheyenne river.

Miss Christina Rorvig, of McHenry, is the guest of Miss Marion and Mrs. O. M. Rogney. They spent Sunday at the camp at Red Willow lake.

Paul Lee, of Pelican Rapids, Minnesota, was a Jessie visitor for a short time the past week. He went to McHenry where he will be in the employ of N. O. Haugen.

Frank Ressler, of Waterville, Minnesota, came up Sunday to work at the mill for a few weeks. Seems like old times to many of the people to greet him once again.

Miss Pearl Dahl returned Wednesday from the summer session of the Valley City normal school. She will enjoy a vacation at the home of her sister, Mrs. N. McCulloch.

The "Bunch" had an enjoyable time picnicing at Lake Jessie Sunday afternoon. Later they motored to Cooperstown and, barring a few blowouts, they had a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Teien of Aneta were Jessie visitors Friday evening. Mr. Teien was looking after local matters of interest here. He is the publisher of the Aneta Panorama.

F. E. Rule and family arrived here on Monday, and Tuesday took possession of the pool hall and barber shop. They purchased the property from Herman Hovel about three weeks ago.

O. E. Retzlaff and family in company with Dave Wilcox left early Sunday for an auto trip to Ray, in the western part of the state. They will visit with friends and return at the end of the week.

Harvesting will be practically finished in another week. Here's hoping for good dry weather. Everybody is in the fields but Dad and he's bossing the job. Of course that's not work, but Dad knows.

The A. M. Hemerlin home was the scene of a merry bunch Monday evening at a corn roast. The Norman McCulloch family and their guests were among the party, and say—well you know what a good corn roast is. Some time.

We are glad to once again greet Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Larson, who arrived Tuesday from Wadena. Harvey went there a week ago and after a short visit with his parents returned home. Mrs. Larson is gradually regaining her accustomed health.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Clemens celebrated their silver wedding anniversary Friday evening of last week. About twenty five friends gathered to greet the happy couple and extend to them the good wishes of all for a golden anniversary. Everyone present had a royal good time.

Ed F. Fiebiger met with an accident Friday evening, which, while not of a serious nature, was very painful. Entering the stable to put up his team after dark, one of the horses became frightened and kicked Ed in the jaw. There are no broken bones, but it was a narrow escape.

Miss Anna Gray, of Mondovi, Wisconsin, is the guest at the Norman McCulloch home. Other guests are Misses Deline and Florence Stinson, of Cooperstown, making a merry party. On Tuesday the binder was set aside for the auto and they all spent an enjoyable day at Red Willow lake. Miss Gray is enroute to Carpio.

There was a large gathering at the Catholic church Sunday, the occasion being the celebration of the First Holy Communion. For the past few weeks Rev. Grenier, assisted by Miss Hovel, has been preparing the class for the service. Thirteen girls and three boys took part in the service. The confirmation class is to be taken up at a later date. The benediction was observed after the communion service. About 100 people were in attendance.

Daily Thought.

Don't waste your life in doubts and fears. Spend yourself on the work before you, well assured that the right performance of this hour's duties will be the best preparation for the hours or ages that follow.—Emerson.
