

Political Announcements

I am again a candidate for election to the office of county auditor. I am now serving my second term. During my incumbency I have endeavored to give good and impartial service, and to guard the county's interest economically and otherwise. I wish to thank the people of the county for their suffrage in the past and to assure them that I will appreciate their votes at the coming election, Nov. 7.

Respectfully,
H. S. Rearick.

For Clerk of Court

Having received the Republican nomination at the June primaries, I respectfully ask your suffrage at the polls on November 7th.

A. M. Hewson.

For County Treasurer

I am a candidate for the office of County Treasurer on the Democratic ticket. If elected will personally attend to the duties of the office myself. Your vote and support will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,
A. M. Detwiller.

John L. Miklethun

Nonpartisan League Nominee for Representative for the 16th Legislative District. Your vote and support will be appreciated.

JESSIE NEWS.

(Too late for last week.)

N. O. Haugen was a business visitor Friday evening.

Where oh where have the robins gone—also my coal pile?

The John Bechel and Adolph Arndt families were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bechel on Sunday and spent a most enjoyable time.

Miss Clara Rorvig of Binford was the guest of Miss Ella Thorn at her home for a few days the past week, and returned home on Sunday.

Fred Rickford has left the plow and will attend school at Fargo this winter. Getting a good education is like making love to a widow, you can't do too much of it.

Amundson and Aurness have again made a raid on the farms and Emil once more is on the road to South St. Paul with a mixed load. Griggs county can well afford to make the feed stuff walk to market.

Oscar Lybeck, of Leonard, and Glen Watkins, of Hope, spent Sunday with Olaf Lybeck. They autoed across and returned in the evening. Oscar made a number of notations relative to the improvements that have been made both private and municipal.

Sam Dubil had a birthday on Wednesday of last week and those who attended say that the "piece de resistance" was simply great. Mrs. Inches assisted Mrs. Dubil with the supper. Mac says this goose was not looney. But where's my hat?

W. J. Dalton went to the N. W. hospital at Moorhead Saturday and returned Monday but went back again. It was found when the XRay was used on Harold's arm that a small piece of bone was lodged in the socket. Word has not been received as yet just what procedure will be necessary.

It was with regret that we learned Sunday evening that Rev. Stinson of Cooperstown, will not continue the work in Jessie. During the past four months he has made a number of warm friends in both town and country. They will now go to make their home at Wildrose. Their many friends here wish for them a successful year.

Ed and Robert Thorn and Norman and Will McCulloch are after the festive goose in the Devils Lake country. In a letter from Norman he says, "We have established headquarters at the "Hunters Retreat" at Garske." All the hair mattresses were occupied upon their arrival however. We are looking forward with great anticipation to their return. "Hope burns eternal" etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazard of Cooperstown were callers on Tuesday.

Basil Edmondson of Cooperstown was a business visitor on Tuesday.

Emil Amundson returned on Friday for the Twin Cities where he went with a car of stock. He says cattle have gone down.

Adolph Arndt shipped a mixed car load of cattle and hogs, Tuesday, to the South St. Paul market. Ben Pfiefer went along as chaperone. Who's next?

Olaf Johnson returned on Friday last from St. Luke's hospital at Fargo after an absence of several weeks. He went to the Northwood hospital Wednesday.

Allen and Manley Ressler are learning the joys of the plow these frosty mornings. J. W. and the boys are going to make the old farm pay dividends.

Those of our people who went to Cooperstown Monday evening report that they sure saw a crowd if they could not hear Senator Nelson. It sure was some tribute to the speaker's drawing power.

Prof. Sigge and his orchestra gave a splendid musical entertainment at the dance in the hall on Friday evening. There were numbers enough to satisfy every one who attended. Lunch was served by Mrs. Inches at the hotel.

W. J. Dalton returned on Friday from the N. W. hospital at Moorhead where he had been in attendance at the bedside of his son, Harold. They are sure that the result will be a satisfactory one. It will be necessary to call on Dr. Truscott for awhile yet.

Warren Payne left on Monday for his new home in Florida and the boys have gone by auto. Nels Jenson and family left Friday of last week for Vilas, Florida, where they expect to farm in the future. They carry the good wishes of a number of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. and Norman McCulloch and R. F. McIntosh were entertained at the parsonage by Mr. and Mrs. Stinson after the services Sunday morning. The party then autoed to Jessie for the afternoon service. This is Rev. Stinson's last Sunday as he leaves Thursday for Wildrose, where he is to open up a new Methodist field. Monday evening a number of their friends in Cooperstown met with Mrs. Charles Houghton and were joined by Mrs. Hemerlin, Mr. and Mrs. Graham

James and Norman McCulloch and R. F. McIntosh. The ladies of his church presented the pastor with a purse. All present had a very enjoyable time. Lunch was served by the ladies in charge. Rev. Stinson and family have the best wishes of their friends here for their success in their new field.

R. F. McIntosh left on Friday for Jamestown to attend the annual conference of the M. E. church of N. D., on Saturday and Sunday. There was a number of meetings held in the new M. E. church, all of which were of very great interest. Especially so were the addresses by the presiding officer, Bishop Cooke. He proved to be a prince of a man. Bishop Johnson of Africa was also present. Former Vice President Fairbanks was a caller and made a brief speech. The Commercial club of Jamestown tendered the delegates and visiting guests a chicken supper on Thursday evening in the Presbyterian church. The ladies of the M. E. church inaugurated a new departure which was fully appreciated by all, by serving hot lunch each moon hour without remuneration. Autoes were furnished and many pleasant trips were taken by the guests. The city responded royally to the conference needs. It was the unanimous vote of the assembly that without doubt it was the best and most successful conference ever held in this state. There were 165 pastors in attendance besides the church officials. Most of the visitors returned to their homes on Monday.

Rural Credits Law a Fake and Gives No Relief to Farmers.

The Rural Credits law was passed to make platform timber at the St. Louis Democratic convention in 1916. It was rushed through in a hurry to help the Wilson administration cover up some of its failures to make good on pledges of 1912. John Burke said in a speech opening his campaign for the senate, "It would seem as tho that was sufficient to go before the people."

Cumbersome and Costly.

The Rural Credits act is pictured to the public as a farmer's act. It is really a bankers' act. It is unthinkable cumbersome. It established a governing body of five members (at $12,000 each), a number of districts and separate governing bodies for each (all at high salaries), an army of counsel, land appraisers, experts, secretaries, and others—for what purpose? To help farmers borrow money at the same old rates of interest on the same old kinds of security—but only after unwinding reels of red tape.

It Gives No Relief.

It gives not a single tenant farmer one cent of relief. Only the owners of land or those who can prove they are immediately going to own land can get its "benefits." To get these "benefits" they have to turn around and pay back five per cent of the money they borrow for bank stock.

Bankers Still to Rule.

But anyone else can buy this stock also, and with it participate in the management of the Rural Credits Banks. Thus any banker can buy this stock and continue to rule the destinies of the farmers, as bankers do now. The difference is that direct dealings between farmer and banker are superseded by a roundabout way that will cost a lot of more money, but bring no atom of improvement. The law lets the Rural Credits banks have government money at three per cent, but the farmers can borrow it from the Rural Credits banks at six per cent only.

Nonpartisan Leader's Opinion.

The Nonpartisan Leader said of this law: "The substance of this
