

some places they are a total loss.

Word was received by H. J. Maurer this week, of an accident which happened to his son, John, who is farming near Terry, Montana. The particulars of the accident are lacking, except that his jaw was broken, face cut and his brain jarred. He was attending a picnic and it is thought that he was participating in a horse race and that he fell beneath the horse's feet.

Dr. E. F. Ringlee was the happiest
